LIBRARY

To access NCSU Libraries resources and services, partners must first obtain a Wolfpack One Card from Lauren Bridges, lauren_bridges@ncsu.edu. In addition to its other uses, the Wolfpack One Card serves as the partner’s library card. Next, partners must register with the NCSU Libraries. To do so, visit the Hunt Library in person, call 515-7110, or send an e-mail to huntlibrary@ncsu.edu.

You will need to provide your name, the nine-digit number on your Wolfpack One Card (the number beside your picture, not the number at bottom left — it should start with “811” or “100”), your work e-mail and telephone number, your mailing address, and the name of the Centennial Campus-based organization with which you’re affiliated. This registration needs to be updated on a year-to-year basis.

If you would like to have materials delivered to the Hunt Library on Centennial Campus, you can set that preference when you log into the Tripsaver document delivery service for the first time.
